2c

A perspective view of the green frame being placed into the metal track. A red arrow points down into the frame, indicating the direction of movement. An inset shows a red arrow pointing to a box, indicating the source of the frame.
